Lydian stands for ...

Mission

Lydian is one of the leading independent law firms in Belgium. Founded in 2001 and making the most of opportunities in a rapidly evolving market, Lydian has successfully developed to become a fully-fledged, stand-alone business law firm, driven by more than 90 motivated and highly competent lawyers.

'Lydian' is a term used in jazz music and means 'note system' or 'touchstone', the backbone on which jazz musicians rely in jam sessions. In the same way we seek to be the backbone of our clients' business ventures.

We provide our clients – large and medium-sized Belgian and international companies – with prompt assistance and to-the-point advice, both in domestic and cross-border files. We frequently handle referral cases from prestigious law firms outside Belgium.

One of the leading independent law firms in Belgium

Lydian is considered as one of the most outstanding independent law firms in Belgium. Our lawyers are internationally recognised as top names in their domain of expertise. We are a full service business oriented law firm. Our departments and teams seamlessly work together on the most complex assignments.

Business oriented lawyers

Our approach is all about being available, responsive and proactive. We understand the opportunities and demands of your business: our memos always have an executive summary, and we are ready to assist you on the phone with prompt advice whenever necessary. Based on the Anglo-Saxon model, our firm stands out through the efficiency of our service, the pragmatic approach of our lawyers and their true commitment to the task at hand.

Working closely with you

We put an emphasis on communication with our clients. Working with the most advanced technological means, our lawyers are reachable at any time.

Whenever necessary, we closely collaborate with in-house legal teams. On a more general level, we foster our e-zines that, unlike typical newsletters which focus on facts and figures, highlight legal evolutions of strategic importance to our clients. In addition, increasingly successful client seminars are organised regularly, providing networking opportunities for the attendees, as well as opportunities to share experiences.

Open to collaboration

As one of the few truly independent law firms in Belgium, we are uniquely positioned to collaborate with other advisors. We have privileged contacts with some of the most prestigious law firms in London and New York.

Cost effective

Lydian delivers the first class quality that can be expected of large international firms, but with the personal involvement typical for smaller firms, and at fee rates that are very competitive. The law firm applies a billing system based on time tracking records. We are also flexible in working out appropriate and flexible fee arrangements. We truly believe in providing excellent value for money.
